The Park's greenfield site is zoned for light industrial development. Water, sewer, electricity, natural gas, high-speed Internet and mobile telephone are in place.

A city block north of the Trans-Canada Highway, the Park has ready access to Highway 502 just 188 km/117 mi to the U.S. border – and it is 10 km from full-service Dryden Regional Airport.

In Dryden, the gateway to Western Canada, the Norwill Industrial Park is open for your business. Call us today!

Market Access

The Trans Canada Highway links Dryden with markets in eastern and western Canada, as well as access to 24 million people directly south in the markets of the United States Midwest.

Dryden is home to several trucking companies that include Stephen Blair Contracting, Skene Transfer & Supply, Gardewine North, Courtesy Freight Systems Ltd., Wayne Peters Trucking, Dave Toews Contracting, Manitoulin Transport Inc. and Kinderlane Enterprises Ltd. Local couriers include Bri-Mar Courier Plus, Northern Parcel, B&M Delivery and Greyhound.

As a result Dryden's location offers competitive shipping costs to/from anywhere, although great opportunities and pricing exist for backhauls:

- east to Dryden from Winnipeg
- east from Dryden to Toronto, and
- north to Dryden from Chicago

Dryden Regional Airport offers daily schedule, charter and freight services. It offers a full service facility with aviation fuels and a 6,000 x 150 foot paved runway complete with an ILS approach.
